Raphael, The School of Athens Marco Carminati

The School of Athens lies in Vatican which is a great scene painting with 58 figures. With his brilliant techniques, Raphael depicts the human wisdom and thought history. He not only creates the visual space of the Hall of philosophy but also paints the images of ancient philosophers according to the contemporary thinkers even himself. Apart from the delicate discussions about the figures along history, the most surprise is the superior technique and incontrovertible achievements. It is the perfect paean for human ideal world, a retrospect for legend and a real creation by an awoken artist in Renaissance.
