College planning should be a time of excitement and expectation, not fear and frenzy! The Christian's Guide to College Admissions (Senior Edition) is a faith-based, weekly, what-to-do-when guide for the final year of the college application process. By breaking college planning into manageable, weekly assignments such as developing college criteria, planning university visits, and brainstorming for essays, students gain control over this often overwhelming yet necessary responsibility.

Not only does the book instruct students what to do when, it also provides specific directions about how to accomplish each task. This book is unique because each week, students also work through a corresponding devotional / work assignment.

For example, if the week's lesson concerns standardized testing, the devotional may be about the tests God allows in our lives. Created to be used within the constraints of a college application timeline, the book is best utilized when started in June prior to the student's senior year, but it can be accelerated in order benefit any student in the final phases of college planning.
